FROM THE WEST.

[From the Reese River Reveille.]

San Francisco, March 6.

The charred remains of a man were found in the ruins of the building on Kearney st. that burned the other day. Who he was is a mystery, as none of the inmates of the house are missing. The remains were so terribly charred as to defy recognition.

Judge Pratt to-day rendered judgment for plaintiff in the suit of J. Sargent vs. John Nightingale et al., and Peter Johnson vs. J. D. Larne. In the latter case for $57,485.

Joseph Corneilson was convicted in the County Court this morning of the crime of incest. His confederate in the crime was his own neice, a girl sixteen years old. He will be sentenced by Judge Cowles next Monday.

The dead body of a newly born female infant was found in the new building on the corner of Bush and Sansome streets this morning. It was rolled up in some old matting, and had the appearance of having been born alive.

Peter Nichols, an Irishman, aged 22 years, committed suicide last eyening in Sullivan's building on Pacific street, by taking either chloroform, morphine, or strychnine. He was put to bed yesterday morning about 4 o'clock very much intoxicated, and remained in his room all day. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon he was heard stirring about in his room as if engaged in bolting the door. About an hour afterwards the room was entered by the landlord, when Nichols was discovered lying dead on his bed. Three phials, containing chloroform, strychnine, and morphine, were sitting on the bureau by the bedside, each of which was partially emptied of its contents.

Yesterday morning thirteen Indians were brought over from the State Prison, whence they had been discharged after having served a term of four years imprisonment each for burglary committed in Los Angeles county.

The certificate of incorporation of the San Juan and San Bernardino Telegraph Company was filed in the County Court to-day. The Company propose to erect a telegraph line from San Jose to San Bernardino via San Juan South, Passo Robles, Hot Springs, Santa Marguerita, San Luis Obispo, La Patra, Santa Barbara, San Buenaventura, Los Angeles, El Monte, and San Bernardino, under a franchise granted to Benjamin Flint and J. S. Bigbee, by an act of the Legislature passed at the last session. The capital stock is $150,000, divided into three hundred shares of $500 each. The stockholders are W. E. Lovett and Austin Wiley of San Francisco, P. W. Murphy of Santa Marguerita, Thomas Flint of San Juan, and Walter Van Dyke of San Francisco.

Private dispatches quote gold in New York yesterday at 137, and to-day at 135, a decline of five per cent. within a week. Sterling was quoted yesterday at 108 @ 108¼ and dull. Legal tenders have sympathized with the gold decline, and are quoted at 73¼ buying and 74 selling.

San Francisco, March 7.

An immense gathering of working men, and others, was held at the American Theatre last night to hear the report of the committee previously appointed, to recommend a plan of organization to protect white labor from the encroachment of competition by Coolie labor. Speeches were made by Zach. Montgomery, Elisha Cook, J. J. Ayers, and others. The committee recommended the formation of an association styled the "Central Pacific Anti Coolie Association," with objects to resist, by legal means, the further importation of Chinese, the removal of those in our midst, and the protection of white labor in all departments. The following resolution, among others, was unanimously adopted: "Resolved, That the Directors and managers of the Central Pacific Railroad have proven false to the Government and people who nourished them into being, and pampered them into opulence, with magnificent donations of land and millions of dollars of credit, when they turned the great American national work into an enterprise for the encouragement of Chinese labor, to the exclusion of American unskilled workmen; and that in doing so, they have dealt a cowardly blow at the true interest of the great national work itself, and to the industrial prosperity of California."

The steamship Continental from Portland, with $56,500 in treasure, arrived last night. The Oregon news is unimportant.

The jury, in the hundred thousand dollar wine case, last evening returned a verdict for the claimant, and against the government.

The Pacific Mail steamship Constitution, which left Panama on the 20th of February, where she connected with the steamer leaving New York, February 11th, arrived at San Francisco yesterday afternoon.

THE UNDERGROUND RAILWAY OF LONDON.—A New York business man, of great experience in road matters, writes from London, under date of January 20, to his friend in this city, naming some of the things he has seen which he likes:

"Not the least is their extensive system of underground railways. It is perfectly wonderful how they jerk the people about, at the rate of fifteen miles an hour, from one end of the town to another, and across and around—stopping about once every half mile, at some prominent corner, at a station, from which you emerge to the upper air, and find yourself somewhere near where you want to be, and miles from where you where a half or three quarters of an hour ago. These trains run each way, being double tracks, about every ten minutes, and morning and evening they often consist of seven or eight cars, holding thirty or forty people each. The cars are lighted with gas—not the tunnels, except at stations—so that you can read your papers, and there is no smell of smoke, or sense of suffocation. How they ventilate them so well I can hardly see. Is there any fair show for stock in the New York Underground Railway; I want it."

THERE are only two surviving officers who served under Commodore Perry at the battle of Lake Erie—Captain Stephen Champlin, of Buffalo, who commanded the gunboat Scorpion, and Dr. Usher Parsons, of Rhode Island, fleet surgeon.

LARGE OFFER.—An offer of two hundred thousand dollars is reported to have been made for the discovery claims of the Esmeralda Head, Owyhee.

Salt Lake City, November 5, 1866.

The Mining Law of 1866.

In a former issue we referred to the fact that claimants of mineral lands, even in the States of California and Nevada, were unable to avail themselves of the Act of Congress of July 26, 1866, in perfecting their titles, for the reason that the land officers declined to take any steps in the premises until the Commissioner of the General Land Office at Washington had prepared and issued his instructions. Although we have not yet seen the circular, we learn from the Colorado papers that Commissioner Jos. S. Wilson has issued the necessary and expected instructions. The Colorado papers just now seem to be much exercised over the subject, and find a great deal of fault with the Commissioner because, as they say, instead of making matters plain, he not only omitted to explain, but has hampered all the proceedings under the Act with an immense deal of red tape.

The Colorado Times says that "there are so many governmental details ere a title can be acquired that it will not be advisable for any person who does not make the law his study, to attempt to obtain a patent under it." We cannot but think that the Coloradans are conjuring up, and shedding tears over imaginary difficulties. What seems to trouble some of them the most, is the fear that under the law and the instructions, single individuals cannot obtain a patent on a single lode for three thousand feet. One paper claims that under the law the discoverer of a vein of precious metal can "take up" two hundred feet by location, and in addition, at least three thousand feet more for discovery. The idea upon which this singular notion seems to be based, may be gathered from the following extract taken from the Times, (a very excellent paper, by the way, and which does not fully indorse the 3,000 feet notion to a single person):

"We had expected to have found in any instructions from headquarters, all ambiguities in the law cleared up; but that is not the case, the most ambiguous part of it is either unseen or ignored. Throughout the law there appears to be a different idea conveyed in regard to the words "claim" and "location." "Claim" appears to be applied to a lode, rather than to a part of it, and, when referring to the past, though the contrary may be known, it so treats of individual claims. Section four contains the following proviso: 'That no location hereafter made, shall exceed two hundred feet in length along the vein for each locator, with an additional claim for discovery to the discoverer of the lode. * * * And provided further, that no person may make more than one location on the same lode, and not more than three thousand feet shall be taken in any one claim by any association.'"

The clear meaning of the law seems to us to be, that no one claim (location if you will,) on any vein hereafter taken up, shall exceed two hundred feet, and individuals shall not be entitled to locate more than one claim, except the discoverer, who may take up an additional claim (of two hundred feet) for discovery. Very similar language is used in most of the mining regulations throughout the country, and we never heard the construction, suggested by the Colorado papers, having been placed upon it before. The intent of the law was to secure uniformity and restrict the gobbling up of valuable lodes by single individuals—or even companies. In the case of associations of persons, they are restricted to fifteen claims, of two hundred feet, viz: Three thousand feet.

The design of the law, while throwing open the mineral lands for occupation and purchase at a nominal price, is manifestly to extend its benefits to the greatest number of persons, and give everybody a chance. In order to do so, and prevent monopolists from securing to themselves the most valuable mines, by gobbling them up, the extent of individual claims is restricted to two hundred feet, and of associations to three thousand feet. Having this object in view, how entirely out of keeping with the intent of Congress would it be to construe the language cited above, as allowing the discoverer to take up and hold three thousand two hundred feet!

In order to avoid this apparent difficulty, some of our Colorado cotemporaries advise their friends to follow the letter and cleat intent of the law, confine their locations to two hundred feet each, but to locate as much as they please in somebody else's name and then get a transfer back from those pliant somebodies. The suggestion is a happy one. There has, throughout the mining regions, always been a great deal of this sort of thing done. By this means the spirit of the mining regulations has been flanked and overturned and a few men obtained possession of the most valuable mines to the exclusion of actual, practical miners. It is called possessory title by purchase, but in nine cases out of ten it is the merest sham, and has retarded the prosperity and working of the mines, wherever it has been allowed. It would be well for Congress to take the hint and pass some Act restricting this sort of thing. The Act of July 26, 1866, is somewhat crude, and was passed, perhaps, more as an experiment than anything else. At the last session, Congress declined to amend it, in some particulars proposed, preferring to let it stand and see how it would work in practice. The press in mining districts should speak out, expose its defects, if there be any, and propose proper remedies. Mere grumbling will be of little avail.

SNOW-SHOE EXPRESS.—Wells, Fargo & Co's Snow-Shoe Express, by the Placerville route, arrived in Gold Hill to-day at one o'clock. The budget of letters was brought as far as Vansickle's on snow-shoes, and from there it was brought up on an Express wagon.—Gold Hill News, March 6th.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

Washington, March 12.

In the Senate, Wilson, from the Military Committee, reported a resolution setting forth that as the arms and equipments intended for the militia of the State of Tennessee were taken and fled over by the disloyal authorities during the late rebellion, and as the present Executive of that State deems it necessary, in order to enforce the laws, to employ the militia, the Secretary of War be authorized and directed to furnish to the Governor of Tennessee arms and equipments for 25,000 men. Wilson asked the immediate consideration of the resolution. Johnson objected, and the bill went over.

Nye introduced a preamble and resolution declaring the sympathy of the United States with the Irish people in their struggle against oppression, and asked its immediate consideration. It was objected to, and lies over.

Cole introduced a bill to enable California to reclaim certain unproductive lands within her limits; also, a bill to grant lands to California for the construction of a canal for irrigating purposes. Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

In the House, Stevens introduced a joint resolution making an appropriation for carrying into full effect the Act of March 2d, for the more efficient government of the rebel States, and Acts supplementary thereto, and moved to limit the appropriation to $5,000,000. Agreed to, and the resolution as amended passed.

Senate joint resolution appropriating $1,000,000 for the relief of destitute persons in the South, was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

House adjourned.

New York, March 13.

Washington specials say that orders will be issued to-day, assigning General Schofield to the First District, Sickles to the Second, Thomas to the Third, Ord to the Fourth, and Sheridan to the Fifth, under the Military Government Act.

Camden, N. J., March 12.

At the charter election, to-day, the whole Union ticket was chosen.

New York, March 13.

The Democratic National Committee met yesterday afternoon at the residence of Auguste Belmont, the Chairman. It was determined not to call a National Convention previous to the regular Nominating Convention of next year. Measures were set on foot for a thorough organization of the party throughout the Union. Most of the Northern States were represented.

The Herald's says that intelligence from Virginia is to the effect that the people there consider the passage of Wilson's bill supplementary to the Military Government Act as a great victory over the Radicals, and Governor Pierpont is reported to have said that it leaves the reorganization of the Southern States entirely in the hands of President Johnson and his rebel friends.

The Herald's New Orleans special says that resolutions were yesterday introduced in the Louisiana Senate, declaring the Military Government bill unconstitutional, and demanding that it be tested in the Supreme Court. They were referred to a special committee. In the lower House, the subject of the New Orleans election (postponed by General Sheridan,) was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The Tribune's special says the House Committee on Elections yesterday had under consideration the Colorado contested election case. They decided to allow neither applicant a seat until the contest is settled by the House.

The President to-day sent to the Senate the names of Judge John J. Whittaker, for District Attorney, and General Herron, for United States Marshal, of New Orleans. A great contest has been waged over these nominations.

Some parties in New Orleans now claim the gold belonging to the Richmond banks, which is in the custody of U. S. Treasurer Spinner. He required them to identify it. They asked to see it, saying they could then tell whether it was theirs. Spinner thought if they couldn't identify it without first seeing it their claim was a very flimsy one. They then attempted a description, but failed.

The Tribune learns from a reliable source that the order of General Sheridan prohibiting the holding of the New Orleans municipal election, was issued under instructions from the President, who added that Sheridan might depose both Governor Wells and Mayor Monroe if he saw fit.

Washington, March 12.

Mr. Lassara, for ten years the Spanish Minister here, has been recalled, and will be succeeded by Senor F. Govier.

New York, March 13.

The Fenian excitement continues. A mass demonstration takes place this evening in Union Square. Money is pouring in. The project of sundry New York merchants to raise a million dollars to start out Irish privateers, is favorably received and meets with considerable success. Private letters from Washington state that the Fenian Committee now in that city have been cordially received by Senators and Representatives of both parties.

The Herald's Vera Cruz letter, dated March 2d, states that 16,000 French troops had left for France up to that time. Great preparations were making to defend the city after the departure of the French. It is said Maximilian will expose Napoleon's intrigue against the United States.

Washington, March 12.

The Senate rejected the nomination of ex-Senator Edgar Cowan as Minister to Austria. According to the conversation of Union Senators they don't consider his political views such as should belong to the country's representatives abroad, considering the Rebellion through which the nation has just passed.

Louis V. Bogy, of Mo., is rejected as Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE.]

London, March 12.

The Fenian bands are all dispersed and the country is tranquil. The authorities, however, have good reason to fear another outbreak, and have taken steps to frustrate it.

Paris, March 12.

The laborers on the Paris Exposition building have struck for higher wages.

Berlin, March 12.

Bismarck recommends a compromise between the several factions in Parliament, in order to adopt a new Constitution.

Dublin, March 12.

Arrests of Fenians are being made in all parts of the country, and large quantities of arms have been seized by the police. A dispatch from Cork states that a detachment had been sent in pursuit of a large number of insurgents who were reported gathered in the vicinity of Mallow Junction, an important railway centre in county [illegible].

Vienna, March 12.

The Emperor of Russia left the city to-day on a visit to the Hungarian capital.

Ex-Communicated.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 13, 1867.

EDITOR VEDETTE:—This morning I read a short communication over the signature of "Boxer," relative to a certain contraband Colonel of the Mormon Legion dashing for parts unknown, which "put me in mind" of the first day I landed in San Francisco, some fourteen years since. I had hardly stepped upon the wharf when I was accosted by a vender of hearhound candy—"Buy some candy? Here's the best hoarhound candy in San Francisco; everybody eats this candy—Sam. Brannah eats it." I wondered who Sam. Brannan was. Can any one tell why the Colonel is like Sam. Brannan?

San Francisco, March 7.

Edwin J. Thompson, a young man indicted for forgery, in passing a bogus check upon Holcombe Brothers, was acquitted in the County Court last evening.

Coroner Harris held a post mortem examination on the body of Peter Nichols, who was supposed to have committed suicide, which showed that he came to his death by an overdose of morphine. It is said that he had been accustomed to use morphine, opium, and other drugs, to quiet his nerves, and his death may therefore have been accidental and not intentional.

Mining stocks continue to improve. The Savage has declared a dividend of $100 per foot, payable to-morrow.

Gold closed at New York on the 6th, at 136.

The shipment of flour to New York, by the steamer for Panama on Saturday, was 8,000 barrels.

Grove Hunt, well known to members of the Legislature as page of the Senate, died last evening.

Victoria, March 7.

John J. Cochrane, ex-member of the Assembly, died suddenly last night. The cause is unknown.

The American bark Scotland, Hoag, from San Francisco on the 9th of February, arrived this morning with the Captain dead on board. The death occurred when off this port yesterday.

California Items.

We clip the following from the San Francisco Call of the 26th February:

Last night, a man named John H. Morrison went to the house of his cousin—a lady residing on Post street, near the corner of Powell—and began to abuse her. She called in a policeman, but Morrison refused to be arrested, and the officer was compelled to call assistance. Three other officers arrived, and lent their aid, and it required the united exertions of the four to convey the man to the calaboose.

The Yolo News having said that the Union was in favor of L. Upson for Congress, the editor replies: "The Union has no special candidate for a Congressional or any other position, National or State. Its desire only is, that honest and sound radical Union men be elected to office, and it hopes that the next Union State Convention will make choice of such candidate, irrespective of aspirations for office, or any other personal consideration."

Yesterday morning, a colored man named Alfred Johnson, was found dead on the floor of his room, on an alley between Green, Union, Powell, and Mason streets. The deceased was a native of Baltimore, Md., aged 57 years, and died from the burning of an aneurism.

The recent yacht race across the Atlantic Ocean, which has gained young Bennett a world-wide reputation, brings to mind a voyage made from Nantucket to San Francisco, in 1849, by Captain D. G. Patterson, in the schooner Mary and Emma, of forty-four tons. The little craft left Nantucket, December 6, 1849, for San Francisco, with a crew of seven men, all told. They passed around Cape Horn, harbored at the Cape three days, and Talcuhano four days, and arrived at San Francisco in one hundred and forty-nine days; all well the whole voyage; not a spar broken, or a rope stranded, or a sail split, and never hove to after the second night out, when they could lay their course, and losing but one duff out of one hundred and forty-nine, which the cook reported "was rolled out of the boiler as fast as he could put it in." The voyage was far more remarkable than the one performed by the owners of the yacht in the great race, but for some reason, (perhaps because it was made by a simple ship captain, who did not know that he was performing a wonderful voyage,) created little or no remark, and has almost passed out of mind.

A shooting match took place at Havilah, Kern county, on the 21st instant, between James Watson, a Deputy Tax Collector, and William Townley, proprietor of the Club Rooms. The only party hurt was an old negress. She was shot through the foot by a stray ball from Watson's pistol.

Colonel Bowie denies in the Union that he is a candidate for Congress.

AN accident, not exactly a windfall, but near one, says the Marysville (Cal.) Appeal, of February 24, happened to W. H. Denton, proprietor of the Quintay stable, corner of A and Seventh streets, on Wednesday last. Mr. Denton had in his hand five hundred dollars in greenbacks, and at that instant something needed his attention on the roof of the stable, as the wind was blowing almost a hurricane. He therefore, in his haste, dropped his greenbacks into his hat, put his hat on his head, and ascended to the roof of the stable. While there engaged a gust of wind took off his hat, and away flew his greenbacks into the heavens. Immediately search was of course commenced for the lost paper currency. A piece was picked up here and there, until Mr. Denton had traveled over half a mile in a northward direction. Some of the bills were picked up as far north as the city gravel beds. During the day his neighbors continued to bring in a $5 and a $10 greenback. On counting up it was found that $84 were still missing. If any one has found a greenback in that direction, there is no question as to whom it belongs.

SOME eight or ten days since, says the Esmeralda Union of March 2d, a sergeant visited this place in quest of deserters. The deserters he found, but they had disposed of their horses and arms. He made no arrests, but reported to Lieutenant Chas. P. Egan, of the 9th United States Infantry, who arrested two of them on Wednesday and one on Thursday, lodging them in the county jail. The names of the parties arrested, as near as we could ascertain, are George Schmittel, Mat. Young and one Nelson. Several horses, their arms, etc., belonging to the Government were taken by these "birds" and sold or secreted, they being aided by men claiming to be honorable citizens. The latter have not yet been recovered.

TAKES ITS POSITION.—The Leavenworth Bulletin places at its head the following announcement, "For President in 1868—Ulysses S. Grant. For Vice President—A Man we can Trust."

OUR IDAHO LETTER.

Idaho City, March 7, 1867.

EDITOR VEDETTE:—Like a modern but inferior statesman ye correspondent is to give the "Spirit of the public press," but there being no competition in that line hereabout it becomes me to deal very gently with them. The Times of this city, on Friday last, yielded to the temptation of getting off a ridiculous editorial on the author's tour in Europe made thirteen years ago, or while the author was yet accountable by his guardians, who, it appears, have taken leave of him. It was a most absurd topic as ever you saw for a mining camp. However, it left the writer in Switzerland, from which, this community sincerely hopes he may never return in shape of an editor. During the late session of the Legislature, while Shepherd run the Times, it was a spicy and readable sheet, and annoyed everybody who didn't like it, but since that time it has not advanced an idea nor created a smile.

The World of Saturday, under the head of "Miscellany," gives some of our male and female tongueists, and anonymous letter writers, a smart smack over the jaws, in the shape of such sensible advice as the following:—"To hear as little as possible what is to the prejudice of others; to believe nothing of the kind until absolutely forced to; never to drink in the spirit of one who circulates ill reports; always to believe that if the other side were heard very different accounts would be given of the matter."

Banner City, situated about twenty-five miles E.N.E. from Idaho City, is soon to be the rival of Owyhee in the production of silver and the other precious metals. Dr. Mitchell expects to have his Idaho and Yuba wagon road completed to Banner early in July, and several quartz mills are to go in there during the season; and before the summer is far advanced it is confidently hoped a permanent line of stages, to run at least triweekly in that direction, will be inaugurated.

Parties are leaving almost daily for Lemhi, an already overcrowded district, and they go three or four hundred miles round in order to get there. The direct route is up the South Payette, and is in a straight course, which will soon be thoroughly understood, probably a distance of one hundred and fifty miles. As is usual in such instances, the class going there are mostly those who owe little bills here which they cannot pay, but can be easily spared, for if they will get themselves out of sight we can forgive them the debts, if they would only promise never to return.

Since my last letter the leading merchants have succumbed again (I'm ashamed to write it,) to the devilish fallacy of allowing $16 per oz. for dust. Because there was a dulness of trade they imagined, like a group of silly children, that a cause existed in the fact of reduction, which was not the case. The largest houses have acted the most inconsistent, for to them the community looked in all hope. I heard a prominent miner remark the other day, "The merchants not only put sand and bogus into the dust, and then try to accuse us of the sin, but now they have added perjury to their other crimes." The fourteen dollar system was working like a charm; those even who had been opposed to it at first were beginning to like it; coin was fast becoming a medium of currency; and Wells, Fargo & Co. were selling thousands of dollars in coin per week at their counter in this city, and drawing drafts at par on San Francisco. But no! the thieves couldn't stand it any longer; their monomania for stealing from the honest miner could not be resisted; their extra profits to be made were of more consequence to them than all their oaths and prospects of heaven. While all honor should be given to whom it is due, and a munificent patronage extended to the house of J. Easly in this city, who, as a grocer of unimpeachable integrity, has acted uprightly all the way through this business, the prevarications of the balance are too utterly contemptible to dwell upon for a moment.

A prominent member of the legal fraternity who has lived here some years, but never prospered, was brought up with a round turn, ne exeat regno, and has been in jail some days. This may seem very cruel, but of course every thing is fair, if lawful. The Colonel has been liberated upon assigning all his assets.

Changing the subject, though, there is an on dit that a wedding of a beautiful young lady in this city is soon to occur; one that will make many an old bach. shiver in his boots, and cause a nine days' talk. When it comes off I'll tell you more.

The Odd-Fellows have bought Smith's building adjoining the Post Office, and are fitting up a splendid new lodge room; a fine improvement, and very creditable to the order.

The District Court has been in session up to yesterday. Mrs. Lemon, I believe, failed to procure her divorce. Probably the referee did not squeeze the case sufficiently, or he could certainly have found one divorce in it.

The weather is pleasant, with sunshine, and if we do not have warm rains, the spring will be favorable to the mining community, and the yield of placer gold, it is hoped, unprecedented. The rains would break ditches, make floods, and in numerous ways cause great inconvenience.

There will be a soiree at the Masonic Hall to-night, at which, no doubt, the beauty and chivalry of Idaho can be found.

As times brisk up a little, there will be more of interest to write you. In the meantime, you may expect to be kept posted, if anybody is.

COURTENEY.

FLOATING CURRENCY.—A few days ago, says the Alameda (Cal.) Gazette, George Brown, merchant at Hayward, took his seat in the cars of the San Francisco and Alameda Railroad, and laid a small bag, containing $500 in coin, beside him. Immediately after taking his seat he thought of some business that he wished to transact with T. J. Edmonson, and forgetting all about his money, and taking it for granted that he had time enough, ran to Edmonson's office. But he had made a miscalculation, for they started before he again reached them, taking his money lying around loose without a protector. With an anxiety that may be imagined, Brown procured the fastest nag in town and drove post haste to Alameda Point; the cars had arrived at the terminus and the boat had been gone a long while when Brown reached the end of his hasty journey by the old means of transit; but he found his treasure safe in the hands of Watson, the conductor. David P. Mitchell, the brakeman, found it on the boat, and with a commendable integrity at once handed it over to the conductor to await a claimant.

The Sydney Sporting Life records the death of Rosalie Durand Lyster. She expired at her residence, Macquarie street, on the 8th of December, aged 33 years. Mlle. Durand was born in New York in 1833. Her parents were American, but of French descent on the father's side, and from him she inherited all the light vivacity and sparkling fervor which characterized her acting. Her connection with the Lyster Troupe in this city is still fresh in the minds of our readers. Her decease was instantaneous, and was caused by an attack of chronic asthma, a disease from which she had been suffering for many years.—San Francisco Call, Feb. 26th.

General News.

The Reveille of March 14th ... furnishes us with the following:

We have just received a letter from a friend in Meadow Lake Valley, dated February 20—previous to the late heavy storm—from which we learn that the Meadow Lake Mining Company, with five stamps each, were at the time crushing ore—the Winton mill, the Eagle, and the U. S. Grant. The Mohawk and Montreal were shortly to start up. The rock of the latter Company was paying $50 per ton, and the average daily yield of the mine about eight tons. The snow was about ten feet deep, and everybody going on snow shoes—even children of the tenderness of five years used snow shoes in going to and from school. Dances occur about three times a week; a literary club has been established, and an amateur theatrical troupe would have been organized but for the crushing in of the theatre by the snow. The writer owns no mining or town property, yet brags of the place. He thinks seventy-five stamps will be in operation in the district next summer. He believes Meadow Lake has seen her worst days, and that from this time forward, every thing will be exceedingly lovely. A road had been kept open to Cisco up to the time of writing, and castings for mills were daily being transported over the snow.

The passengers who arrived in this city yesterday, via the Donner Lake route, have been eleven days coming from Cisco. They have had a rough old trip. Some came in from the Four-mile House, Geiger Grade, on horseback, and some stuck to the stage.

The Placerville route was probably opened yesterday between Billy Mack's and Yank's, sufficiently to render it passable for stages. It is thought that the coaches will be able to get all the way through on the route in a day or two.

Billy Crandall, of Wells, Fargo & Co's, in this city, is getting to be quite a mountain man—a regular Norwegian. He reached Yank's station, on the Placerville route, within sixteen hours after leaving this city. His snow-shoes must have run away with him. He went out to meet the express-man from the California side of the Sierras, and will probably be back to-day or to-morrow with the letter mail.

From the Reveille of the same date:

The snow at Meadow Lake is reported to be twenty-seven feet in depth.

The causes which led to the attempted suicide of Ben. Woods, of San Francisco, appear to have been as follows: While on a visit to the Atlantic States a few months since, some intermeddling person wrote to his wife that he was leading a dissolute life. This information affected her to such a degree that she became insane, and now is an inmate of the Insane Asylum. On returning to his home, and ascertaining the deplorable condition of his wife, he attempted the suicide. The poison was pumped from his stomach, and he is now out of danger.

Two large wagons, with tenders, each drawn by eight mules, arrived in town yesterday afternoon on the route for Montana. They are loaded with assorted merchandise. Fortunately, the teamsters drove over the mountains on the 18th ultimo, the date of the commencement of the late severe snow storm.

From the North.

The Idaho Statesman, of March 7th, says:

We learn that Sergeants Shoalderdice and Maguire, and a private named Lee, all of Company F, United States Cavalry, of Capt. Perry's command, were poisoned about ten days ago by eating a sort of wild turnip or parsnip indiginous in the Malheur country. All of them died and were buried there. Shoalderdice was orderly sergeant of his company, and leaves a wife and five children at Fort Boise.

The Helena Post, of March 5th, has the following:

The Hawkeye mill (Postlewaite's) made another seven days' run and cleaned up on Sunday morning, 362½ ounces of splendid retort, valued at $6,525 in gold, or $8,156.25 in greenbacks. This is the best run ever made in Madison county. The ore was taken from discovery claim on the Kearsarge lode.

Weston's train left yesterday for Salmon river, loaded with goods, and Judge Bond will be off in a few days for the same place.

One of the severest snow-storms of the season, visited us last week. It commenced early on the morning of the 28th ult., and lasted all day, falling with a steady persistence more characteristic of away "down East," than is usual in this blustering, hyperborean region. It covered the ground to the depth of fifteen inches or more, but, as yet, has caused no delay to the various coaches running in and out of our city.

The new "Eagle Creek gulch" they say prospects very well. Between fifteen and twenty shafts have been sunk in the gulch, up to the present time, as we learn from a gentleman just in from there, with flattering results. It is from fifteen to twenty feet to the bed-rock, and the "pay dirt" is from three to five feet deep, which prospects as high as $2.50 to the pan.

A little altercation took place on the street the other morning, between an editor and a gentleman with whom a controversy had taken place in the papers. We are credibly informed that the editor was armed with a pistol, the other with a cowhide, but no assault was made—except with the tongue. We have no commendations to bestow on either of the parties in this transaction, and shall withhold censure until the circumstances shall have been more fully made known to us.

The last storm was the severest we have had during the winter, and appears to have raged with special fury between here and Diamond City. The prisoners from Diamond and their guards, had a rough trip of it. All of them were more or less frost-bitten by the time they reached the Spokane House, the driver of the stage being the worst off, he having the tip of his nose and both cheeks frost-bitten.
